55 gr Peanut butter

1 teaspoon Ground cinnamon

30 gr Honey

50 gr Melted butter

200 ml Milk

1 curd Sachet

150 gr Dark chocolate 80%

200 ml Double cream

200 ml Milk

1 curd Sachet

150 gr White chocolate

200 ml Double cream

Cocoa powder

- 1 For the base of the cake: Chop the nuts with a knife and combine them with the rest of the ingredients in a bowl. Use the microwave dish and cook the crumble for three minutes and a half at the highest temperature.
- 2 Then, add honey and melted butter, mix until soft, and spread over the bottom of a springform pan previously covered with parchment paper. Set aside to cool.
- 3 Dissolve the curd in some cold milk in a saucepan, bring it to a boil, and stir the mix from time to time. Use another saucepan to melt the chocolate using "melting" function of your hob.
- 4 Turn down the heat when the milk is thicker and the chocolate has melted. Add the double cream, then the chocolate, and whisk.
- 5 With the base of the cake already cold, arrange the first layer with dark chocolate and place it in the kitchen. We want to solidify this layer first to avoid mixing it with the next layer.
- 6 Repeat the same steps with the other chocolate layers: milk chocolate and white chocolate.
